Excerpt: . . . CHAPTER XVI CONCLUSION--PERSONAL CHARACTERISTICS, ETC. Speaking of my fathers private life, and some of his personal characteristics, the Law Journal of Upper Canada, of March 1863, says: --Sir John Robinsons social life exercised a great influence on the masses. His private life gained for him, if possible, more thoroughly the affections of the people than even his public services. He was emphatically a good man, and a God-fearing Christian. He had none of those peculiarities or eccentricities which frequently characterise the dispositions of great men. His manners and tastes were simple and unaffected. His conversation was varied with lively illustrations of wit and humour. Generously hospitable, none enjoyed sociability more than Sir John. His hand was at all times open to relieve any urgent case of suffering or necessity. His genuine kind-heartedness, and his downright honesty of purpose, made him the idol of society,...
