Not only so, but she hated the Puritans for their moral teaching, their moral discipline, their moral manners, and their moral lives, which contrasted so reproachfully with the licentiousness in which her Court wallowed. Faunt, private secretary to Walsingham, uttered a sad complaint about having to live in such an immoral atmosphere as the Court. The only discontent I have, he writes, is to live where is so little godliness and exercise of religion, so dissolute manners and corrupt conversation generally, which I find to be worse than Hist, of Eng., x. 115. when I knew the place first. 29 In a subsequent letter, under date London, 6 Aug. 1583, he describes the Court as not improving as years roll on. My mind, he says,...
